

HONORS PROGRAM COLLOQUIA (CCOL)

CCOL 104 The American Black Women 2 Credits

Exploration of the multidimensional nature of life of black women in North America from 1619 to the present. This colloquium provides knowledge and understanding of how black women's lives have been shaped by American systems.

CCOL 112 Moral Problems in Cont Society 2 Credits

Consideration of current issues in biology and medicine which require ethical decisions.

CCOL 206 College Campus Culture 2 Credits

Exploration of the social, emotional and intellectual behaviors which are transmitted and formed throughout college matriculation.

CCOL 302 Dynamics of Leadership 2 Credits

Opportunity to explore leadership qualities and styles.

CCOL 304 Contemporary Econ Problems 2 Credits

Major issues affecting the American political economy, particularly those issues having special significance for the economic well-being of black and other Third World peoples. Emphasis is discussions is on public policy issues.

CCOL 402 Black Self-Concepts 2 Credits

The aspirations, accomplishments, and progress of African Americans against the historical background of W.E.B. DuBois' Souls of Black Folk.